

POWHATAN MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

From a letter to the Searcy Record, written by Rev. Z. T. Bennett, minister of the Methodist-Episcopal Church, South, at Powhatan, Lawrence county, under date of April 7th, we clip the following notice of the above enterprise, located at that place, and can give our personal indorsement to the reliability of the company and its enterprising officers. They manufacture all kinds of heavy woolen goods, jeans, tweeds, linseys, and flannels, plain and twilled, of varied and reliable colors, and wool growers in all parts of the state will do well to place themselves in communication with the establishment:

With the wool from twenty-five to thirty sheep an average-sized family can be well supplied with good jeans, flannel, linsey, and knitting yarn, and all this at small expense. This fact I learned from a farmer near Jacksonport, who ex-
